VERMONT STATE NEWS.

The C. V. Railroad has ordered 200 coal and 500 box cars.

G. B. Evans of Waterbury, a life long democrat, prominent in his party, died last week.

Edward Fillmore of Bennington was badly stung by bees while working in a grain field recently.

Over 800 N. E. Grange lecturers held a meeting at Burlington last week.

In 12 hours an average of 102½ autos an hour passed a given point in Montpelier August 21 and 22 trucks.

The U. S. District Court for Vermont collected $17,303, in fines during the past six months.

Not Kindly to Trouble Makers

Some Hail

Stories from perfectly authentic sources are to the effect that in Lunenburg recently, hailstones that fell, measured 1½ by 1½ and 1½ inches in circumference and one of them weighed by Mrs. John Covey, tipped the scale at just one pound.

Lyndonville and Caledonia county do not take the "heating up" of railroad workers very kindly. The fourth successive state's prison sentence indicates that juries over that way agree with President Harding that the right to work is as sacred as the right to quit.—Rutland Herald

Postmaster at Waterbury

The Civil Service has Certified the names of the following eligible to Congressman Dale: B. F. Atherton, Max G. Ayers and W. J. O'Neil. The latter is a democrat.

This is the result of the recent competitive examination, and personal investigation of the standing and qualifications of the candidates, by special examiners recently.

Promptly Caught and Sent Up

Peter McEnay of Fairfield and Leonard Church of St. Albans pleaded guilty in St. Albans city court to stealing articles from cars left standing on the street and were sentenced to not less than two nor more than three years at hard labor at state's prison in Windsor. Mrs. Harley Robinson lost a coat valued at $50 from her car, left standing in front of a residence and Percy Warner lost a blanket from his car left in front of an office on Main street. The coat and blanket were in the possession of the men when they were arrested.

Aged Woodman Killed

Wesley Holmes, age 89 years, was found dead in Hubbard park August 23, caught beneath a beech tree which he had felled. The tree evidently bounded sideways and caught him across the small of the back, causing internal injuries. Mr. Holmes, who was as active as a man of 50, was allowed by the park commissioner to cut dead wood for his own use, being the only man given this privilege.

Holmes had worked at trimming and cutting trees for years. His principal occupation during his 35 years residence in Montpelier has been gardening.

He was a native of Milton. He was married in Fairfax and lived a few years in Worcester before coming to Montpelier.

Oldest Printing Press

The old Stephen Daye hand printing press belonging to the Vermont Historical Society was shipped to Boston August 24.

The press will be on exhibition at the Second Educational Graphic Art exhibition to be held in the Mechanics building in Boston August 28 to September 2.

The press is the first ever used in the United States and was brought to Boston in 1638. On February 12, 1781, it was used in Westminster for printing the Vermont Gazette and Green Mountain Boy, the first newspaper ever published in the state.

In 1783 it was used in Windsor for printing the Vermont Journal and Universal Advertiser.

Fireworks at Caspian Lake

Campers around the lake at Greensboro during the big electric storm, were affected more or less by the lightning. The Snyder cottage was struck and slightly damaged. The Salisbury cottage was also struck and Mr. Hall, who was sitting on the porch at the time, was badly burned and his clothing partly torn from his body. Two physicians worked over him and finally he revived and will recover. The cottage was considerably damaged by the splintering of the wall boarding outside and also on the inside. The same evening, Joseph Bry's large stock barn and horse barns in Greensboro were struck and completely destroyed, together with 22 cows, six head of young stock and three horses, with all crops. There was $4,000 insurance.

Delaney is Ninety

George M. Delaney, who on August 15, celebrated his 90th birthday anniversary, is one of Burlington's oldest residents and looks as robust and bonnie as one many years his junior. He boasts of feeling fine and being able to enjoy his customary walks whenever the weather permits. He was visited by about 70 friends, who called to offer congratulations and best wishes, and he also received many beautiful flowers, gifts, telegrams and cards from friends.

Mr. Delaney was born in Queens county, Ireland, and came to America as a very young man, residing in New York for three years and Augusta, Me., for about ten years. He has been a resident of Burlington for 57 years and has watched with interest the growth of the city from that time. He built the Hotel Burlington and was proprietor of it for 30 years.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

NO HARD COAL

Must Either Burn Wood or Soft Coal or Suffer from Cold

H. J. M. Jones, state fuel administrator, in a statement made for this paper Friday, made it very clear, that, in his opinion, domestic users of coal this winter will do one of three things: burn wood, burn soft coal or suffer from cold weather.

Mr. Jones is very much exercised over the lethargy, which appears to exist in Vermont on the matter.

He said: "It is not my desire to frighten the citizens of Vermont, nor to create a panic, but fear and panic may be the only weapons that will save the domestic consumers of anthracite coal from suffering this winter."

"I have had sufficient information to know that some people, who have been using hard coal for heating purposes, must use some substitute for a part of the winter."

"The strike in the anthracite mines is still on and if a settlement were made today and all miners return to work, Vermont would not receive over 50 percent of its needs."

"Public meetings should be called in every city and town in the state to arrange for a supply of some substitute for anthracite coal."

"Cutting wood clubs should be formed, especially in the rural districts, and get to work with real earnestness to create a supply of such proportions that it will save suffering this winter."

"The state fuel committee will not receive a pound of anthracite coal until the strike is settled and the mines resume work."

"After the strike is settled it will be weeks before a flow of hard coal will come to Vermont and that amount will depend entirely on the U. S. fuel distributor. We cannot procure coal. We can only distribute it."

"Again I say, I do not want to frighten the public, but it is my duty as fuel distributor of the State of Vermont to warn you when I see danger ahead."

"Please consider that in normal times it requires 12 months' mining to supply the country with the necessary amount of anthracite coal and that the mines have been closed for five months."

"We may be able to secure soft coal as a substitute, but if everyone clamors for it, the supply will not be sufficient."

"Vermont has nearly three months before cold weather and her only salvation is wood."

"My advice is that the coal users hold meetings at once and arrange for the cutting of wood on a large scale to save Vermont from suffering the coming winter. I might say further that it would be only natural for this office next February to remind you of this August 27 interview."

Rollin N. Benson, a painter, who fell from a staging at the Hotel Vermont last week, died at the hospital after a few days suffering.

It Is Up to the Legislature

The Vermont gubernatorial campaign is at present simply a big tent with two rings but no circus. If a real road candidate should enter the field, it would at once become a three ring circus, with a genuine marathon race round the arena.—Burlington Free Press.

We notice a number of items like the above in the state press. We believe no matter which candidate is elected, they will put up things to the legislature that will make some of the papers change their minds. If things that both candidates are talking of are given respectful attention, we will surely see things stirring. Will the legislature co-operate or will it be a dog fight?—Northfield News.

So far this year Studebaker has built and sold more cars than during the entire year of 1921. And 1921, in spite of a general business depression, was the biggest year in Studebaker's 70 years' history.

This steady volume of business, plus the savings resulting from Studebaker's methods of complete manufacture, reduces manufacturing and selling costs. And it is a Studebaker policy of long standing to share these savings with the customer. Hence, the new low prices.
